

COMSYS Clinical

COMSYS Clinical Overview

The pharmaceutical industry faces many challenges today. Increased competition, patent expiration, the need to develop a continual pipeline, growing pressures to conform to clinical data standards, more rigid regulatory guidelines and government controls continue to test pharmaceutical companies.

To thrive in today's Life Science marketplace, companies need clinical solutions that: 1) reduce or contain costs; and 2) increase efficiencies in the programming and analysis process. COMSYS Clinical offers comprehensive solutions for the pharmaceutical, biotechnology and medical devices industries in order to help companies meet these increased pressures head on.

Our specialized professional consultants have experience supporting phases I-IV of the drug development lifecycle. Our team has years of proven experience in all aspects of the clinical development process including data management, programming, database development, table/listing/graph creation, validation/QC, statistical support and report generation.

COMSYS is an important partner for companies that want to achieve fast, superior, cost-effective product development. We enable clients to effectively outsource much of the data management, programming, statistics and custom application development, saving the cost of staffing and maintaining in-house resources.

Our tailored solutions focus on key industry needs including:

- Speed-to-Market - COMSYS' professional consultants focus on the unique challenges of the biopharmaceutical, biotechnology and medical device markets and the compelling need to get products to market faster.
- Flexibility - We can provide customized solutions offsite in our SAS Centers of Excellence or provide pre-qualified clinical consultants as an extension of your onsite project team. COMSYS offers an infrastructure of resources, services, and secure facilities to accommodate the needs of our clients, allowing work to progress in an efficient and timely manner.

SOLUTION SUMMARY

Pharmaceutical and medical device research is rapidly growing in accountability, complexity and expense. The increased workload creates a need for professional, experienced partners to assist in providing accurate, timely information to help the study teams make informed decisions. COMSYS is your experienced clinical partner of choice.
