

COMSYS Clinical

Clinical Programming Functional Service Provider

The future of clinical development is here. In a recent survey conducted by ContractPharma, 53% of respondents indicated that outsourcing spend will increase by at least 6% to 10% in the next year. Today's pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies are focused on speed-to-market of safe and effective disease elimination and management products. Improving efficiencies thus reducing cost without sacrificing quality is on the mind of every Life Science executive. But how does a company choose the right outsourcing organization to partner with?

Fast, efficient, experienced, flexible. These are characteristics you want in an outsourcing partner. COMSYS has over 25 years of experience in providing unique and flexible clinical programming and analytical solutions to pharmaceutical and biotech clients. We implement industry best practices and have developed comprehensive methodologies for bringing state of the art clinical solutions to our clients.

FUNCTIONAL SERVICE PROVIDER PROGRAMS

Move beyond conventional to strategic. Many Life Sciences companies are moving towards specialized, niche providers with the experience and dedication in specific clinical service areas. These niche providers, often referred to as Functional Services Providers allow companies to focus on their core competencies and reduce costs while at the same time receiving high-quality solutions to their needs.

"Working with COMSYS Clinical in an FSP partnership has been very beneficial to our organization. COMSYS' team of Clinical Programmers and Project Managers provide high-quality and timely solutions which allow us to focus on the business of completing our programming projects on-time and on-budget. We find great value in partnering with COMSYS."

—Client, Fortune 50 Global Pharmaceutical Company

COMSYS Clinical has proven experience as a quality Clinical Programming Functional Service Provider to the world's largest pharmaceutical and biotech companies. By following our proven FSP program methods, our clients are able to determine how and where to apply their resources and energies in order to complete their clinical programming efforts on-time at a reduced cost.

COMSYS Clinical operates three SAS Centers of Excellence in the United States: New Jersey, Michigan and California. From these outsourcing facilities, our teams work on projects of all sizes in a secure and stimulating environment.

Our teams of experienced clinical programmers and statisticians can help you with all of your clinical programming needs including:

- Tables/Listings/Graph Programming
- Validation/QC/Verification
- PK/PD Support
- Post Marketing Clinical Data Analysis
- Data Mapping
- eSubmission Support

COMSYS Clinical

Our clinical programming teams are created to match the specific needs of our clients. Proven Clinical Engagement Managers and Project Managers are assigned to each client to ensure the project is on track to the specifications of the client. In addition, we have the infrastructure and systems in place to allow for a transparent clinical outsourcing process.

CLIENT BENEFITS

- Focused Clinical Programming Expertise – For over 25 years, COMSYS Clinical has provided industry leading clinical programming solutions. Our unique recruiting process allows us to deploy the best clinical programming talent to your projects.
- Seamless Partnership – COMSYS Clinical can integrate your SOPs into our process and work within your system(s) to ensure standard processes across studies regardless of who produces the output.
- Increased Productivity of Your Internal Team – Our clients can reallocate their programming resources to focus on other critical projects.
- Reduced Costs – Our methodologies and processes allow for a streamlined approach to clinical programming allowing for reduction in cost compared to traditional outsourcing providers.
- Improved Resource Forecasting Ability – Partnering with COMSYS Clinical allows you to forecast your spend and your internal resources more effectively to meet your long and short term needs.

- Quality Services and Solutions – Our team is dedicated to providing quality deliverables to our clients in a timely manner.
- Transparency – Our project management approach keeps you in control of the work being done without the usual overhead.

SOLUTION SUMMARY

Speed, quality and cost reduction have become important factors in a Life Science company's ability to get effective and beneficial drugs to market. Clients look to us for customized and flexible programs to help them meet their aggressive budgets and timelines.

COMSYS Clinical's team of Engagement Managers, Clinical Programmers and Statisticians are dedicated to ensuring the success of the client partnership. With over 25 years of clinical programming success and revenues approaching one billion dollars, COMSYS is a recognized thought leader in the development and ongoing evolution of the clinical FSP model.

